

Pornography: it's not for kids!

While the 'Puberty Power Up' course focuses on puberty and anatomy learning for children, the PLUS topics or add ons offer extra learning experiences across a number of topics. Some families find they need more information in other areas of learning; perhaps because their child is asking more questions about friendships, body safety, keeping happy online, gender identity or sexuality. We offer these extra topics for those parents/caregivers who wish to scale up their child's learning at home.

'Pornography: it's not for kids!' talks about how pornography is not a realistic representation of sexual activity—reinforcing that relationships and sexual activity, including kissing, should be safe, respectful and with consent (always between people who happily agree and give permission, without being pushed, pressured or forced).
